

NACC has a new interactive tool that helps users see which ADCs have resources they're looking for. The Neuropathologic and Biospecimen Resource Locator Tool draws from information provided by the ADCs in a recent survey and permits filtering by tissue type, neuropathologic disease, and more. The information will be updated periodically.

Please give the Resource Locator a try, and consider sharing it with others who might find it useful.

NACC thanks Dirk Keene and the other members of the NP Core Steering Committee for their work on the locator tool. Thanks also go to the ADC NP Cores for their participation in the initial survey.
